Mid-Winter Grads Hear Rev. Cadman

Forty-two Certificates, 62
Degrees Awarded at
115th Convocation

Speaker Urges the Devel- opment of Imagination in Youth

Forty-two certificates and 62 degrees were awarded Saturday when the Rev. S. Parkes Cadman addressed the University's one hundred and fifteenth winter convocation in Constitution Hall.

Dr. Cadman told graduates that wealth of imagination was "the highest form of mortal endowment." "Leadership," he said, "can be produced by the development of more nimble imaginations in youth."

Quotations Used
Interpreting his remarks with literary quotations, Dr. Cadman went on to say that in the past few years there has been a poverty of leaders and of scientific and artistic accomplishment.

"Do not," he said, "be afraid of your imagination."
"Don't seek to be too rich," he advised. "The heating of money together is a very dirty process."
Dr. Cadman prescribed the reading of books in preference to magazines and newspapers as a means of cultivating imagery.

Kayser Presents Candidates
Following Dr. Cadman's address, candidates for certificates and degrees were introduced by Marshal Elmer Louis Kayser. Pres. Cloyd H. Marvin conferred the degrees and certificates.

After the conferring of academic awards, the president delivered the charge to the class.
"Your effectiveness," he said, "will depend upon three things—the kind of task you undertake, the methods by which you seek to accomplish the task, and your reasons for undertaking the task."

Consider Methods
"Having selected the work you would do, bear in mind that the methods you use are as important as the objective you would gain. Never let yourself believe that any task needs questionable methods to bring it to completion. No matter how high the task set for accomplishment, nor how fine the methods used in attainment, false, selfish or meager motives cannot support, and ultimately will destroy, your work."

Tuition Bills Being Mailed

Adjustments in Schedules Must Be Reported by February 29

Bills for the second installment payments of tuition which are due Mar. 1, will be mailed this week. Checks should be made payable to The George Washington University, returning the bill with remittance to the Office of the Comptroller, 2033 G St.

Those who wish to make schedule changes or to withdraw from the University should, if financial adjustment is desired, report in writing or in person to their respective deans on or before Feb. 29. Students whose fees are not paid by Mar. 16 will be suspended and may not attend classes until they have paid all accrued fees. A statement fee of $5 and have been officially reinstated. According to University regulations, a suspended student may not be reinstated for the session after one week from the date of suspension.

Delta Theta Phi Inducts Compton Saturday Night

Prof. William R. Compton, of the Law School faculty, will be initiated into honorary membership by the Woodrow Wilson Senate, the local chapter of Delta Theta Phi, legal fraternity, Saturday evening, at the University Club.

Others to be initiated at the same time are as follows: Walter A. Bowers, George Powell, Oswald M. Hayes, A. C. Richmond, R. A. Buddeke, Charles S. Ryne, E. Marion Rhodes, B. O'Neal Bryan.

A dance given by active members and alumni in honor of the initiates will be held subsequent to the initiation ceremony.
The Woodrow Wilson Senate and the White Senate of Georgetown plan to act as hosts to representatives of over 80 senators of Delta Theta Phi when its national convention meets in Washington Sept. 2.

New Workshop Obtained For Cue, Curtain Sets

A new workshop in the basement of Building N was obtained last week by the construction staff of Cue and Curtain, now working on the sets for "Ten Minute Alibi". The shop will also be used by the Fiesta and other campus organizations.

"Breath of Life" to Con- clude Chemistry Department Broadcasts

"Breath of Life," a radio drama by Mrs. Margaret Long of the creative writing class, will be presented by George Washington Radio Players Friday night at 7:30 on radio station WMAL under the auspices of the University Radio Forum.

The drama directed by Prof. Douglas Bement of the English department, will conclude the series of Forum broadcasts sponsored this month by the Department of Chemistry.

The story deals with the continuous development of the uses of oxygen from the time of its discovery by Joseph Priestley in the late eighteenth century to the present day, and it is dedicated to the American Chemical Society.

Scene Opens In 1874
The background scene opens in 1874 in Northumberland, Pa., with the meeting of prominent American chemists to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the discovery of oxygen. It was at this time that the nucleus of the American Chemical Society was formed.

From the speech of Dr. Frazier, who later became president of the society, the action of the play is transferred to the present time. In a series of scenes which take place from Columbus, O., to Augsburg, Germany, and from a submarine in the New York harbor off Block Island to the Jeffrey Hale Hospital in Quebec, Canada, the various uses of oxygen are demonstrated.

Cast Listed
Members of the cast are: Hamilton Coil, Colonel Taggart; Harold Minor, Dr. Priestley; Margaret Moore, Mrs. Priestley; Gardner Crabbe, Professor Lavoisier; and John Mercer; Garth Edwards, William Priestley; Frank Burnett, Mr. Ryland; and Professor Smith; E. Joe Calhoun, Joseph Priestley; Virginia Hawk, Grace Mercer; Lawrence Beckerman, Admiral Christy; Ben Candland, Wilson; Robert C. Campbell, Ingraham; Eleanor Parr, Mrs. Martin; John Coggins, Dr. Frazier and Dr. Delaney; and Lillian Gerstein, Miss Venn.

Men Will Sing Under Kindler

The Men's Glee Club will face the largest audience in its history, when it sings the male choral part to Franz Liszt's Faust Symphony with the National Symphony Orchestra, in Constitution Hall, Mar. 15.

Though the Glee Club has never sung with the National Symphony Orchestra before, it has been the custom of the latter organization since its inception five years ago to render one program a year with some local group of singers. Dr. Hans Kindler, director, chose the University Men's Glee Club for the performance this year as the chorus most suited for the performance of Faust.

Library Graduate Given D. C. Post

Mrs. Miriam Uhler Chisolm, who took her library work here, is now supervisor of circulation of the District of Columbia Public Library.

She has been an instructor here during summer sessions and an assistant in evening classes during the winter. She has also been a teacher and has acted as librarian at the Eastern High School.

Fiesta Senior Staff Personnel Announced

Heading the list of appointments to senior staff of the University Fiesta, which were made public last night, was that of Morris Kruger, who was appointed assistant to the director, in charge of finance.

Kruger who has worked on the Fiesta two years, served as chief accountant last year. The financial system which he inaugurated last year, will be continued this year.

Paul Brogren was named dance manager; Emanuel Colman, chief file clerk; Joe Collins, athletic director; Garth Edwards, program manager; Marvin Footer, contest chairman; Joseph Goldman, senior accountant; Allen Mesirov, financial liaison officer; Katherine Porter, office manager; and Samuel Walker, art chairman.

Of the above named appointees, nearly all had responsible Fiesta positions last year. Brogren was

Colonials Defeat Wake Forest, 49-18 In Season's Final

Captain Tuffy Leemans, called "G. W.'s greatest athlete" by Jim Pixlee between the halves, wrote finish on his athletic career at G. W. last night as the Colonials finished the season with a victory over Wake Forest, 49-18. It was G. W.'s 16th victory of the season.

G. W. started off slowly and led 16 to 10 at the half. However, in the second half the Colonials literally ran Wake Forest off the court, scoring 33 points.

Tommy O'Brien again led the G. W. scorers, this time with a total of 14 points. George Freilicher had a total of nine points, and Hal Kiesel had eight. Clarence Berg and Tuffy Leemans each had seven points.

After the game Hal Kiesel was elected captain of the team for next year.

Medical Clinic Presents New Advancements

Dr. W. W. Herrick Ad- dresses Banquet at Willard Hotel

Some of the newest and most advanced procedures in medicine and surgery will be presented at the fourth annual Post Graduate Clinic of the University School of Medicine Saturday at the Medical School and Hospital. Scientific assemblies, demonstrations, and laboratory inspections will take place during the day.

Concluding the program, Dr. William Worthington Herrick, professor of clinical medicine at Columbia University, will address the tenth annual reunion and banquet of the University Medical Society Saturday night at the Willard Hotel. Pres. Cloyd H. Marvin and Dean Earl B. McKinley will be among the honor guests. Dr. J. C. Bradley, president of the society, will preside at the meeting.

Opportunity to Alumni
The clinic will also offer an opportunity for medical alumni practicing in Washington, and alumni from neighboring cities to come in contact with the most recent developments in medicine.

Foreign Students Held First Tea In House Friday

The first of the teas for foreign students was held in International House, Friday afternoon. Leila Fern, president of the International Students Society, poured.

Informal teas at which all foreign students are welcome will be held at the house every Friday afternoon from 4 to 5. Prof. Alan T. Deibert, foreign student adviser, announced last week.

Bandsmen Plan Concert Dance

David Oberlin, Dick Schayer, and Howard Scott were named as the members of a committee of three to make plans for a band concert dance to be held in the spring, at a meeting of the band executive board Saturday.

The concert, for which the band is already practicing, and is to be inaugurated this year, is intended to be an annual affair resembling the Glee Club concert-dance.

Centrist Action Expected On Commerce Question

As yet no Center Committee Reports Have Been Passed

By Lee Roark
A commerce bill to be considered by the Union next Sunday is expected to answer the query of those who have been wondering what has become of the Center Party platform. The Union will meet in Stockton 30 at 3 p.m.

The tendency of Center Party measures to lean left, and their failure thus far to secure the passage of any of their committee reports on the floor of the Union, has become the object of concern to Centrist leaders who would adhere closer to party lines. Six members of the commerce committee are Centrists, two are Left, and three Right.

Changes Show Left Ideas
It seems that since the reading of the pending bill the last Union meeting, the committee took under consideration certain changes favoring of left wing influence, which provided government ownership and operation of all production and distribution of electricity, abolition of company unions, and abolition of child labor.

Evidently Center members got their heads together, however, according to the latest report from Lloyd Rogers, chairman of the committee, the bill which he will report Sunday will embrace the original provisions.

Unless the committee reconsiders when they meet again this week, the majority report, which will be presented on the floor of the Union, will provide for the creation by Congress of a board of 15 members, which will have the power to regulate.

Freshman Speech Entries Urged to Attend Meeting

Submit Contest Manu- scripts to Public Speak- ing Dept., Bldg. S

Students interested in the Freshman Speaking Contest are urged by Sigma Delta Phi, women's speech arts fraternity, sponsor of the contest, to attend a meeting Thursday at 12:15 in Building S-1, where additional information and rules will be announced.

Manuscripts for the contest may now be submitted to the public speaking department on the 3rd floor of Building S.

A silver cup will be awarded the winner of the competition, which is open to all men and women in the freshman class.

Dean Elmer Louis Kayser will preside as chairman of the contest. Mr. Charles E. Bish, debate coach of Woodrow Wilson High School and Dr. Grace Holmes, debate coach of Central High School, have been selected as two of the judges.

A number of topics for discussion have been suggested, although contestants may speak on any subject they choose. Sigma Delta Phi has added the following topics to those previously suggested:

Freedom of Speech; Pacifism and Militarism; Extra-Curricular Activities; Inflation—Where It Stops; Modern Dictatorships; The Path of American Higher Education; and The New Deal's Monetary Policies.

Speeches are to be 10 minutes in length.

The closing date for submitting manuscripts has been set for Mar. 13. They will then be read and approved by the committee before actual competition. The contestants whose manuscripts are chosen will give their speeches before judges. Speakers will be judged on composition, delivery and appearance.

Goodykooz Announces Bulletin, and Papers Planned by Party

The Left party of the Union will hold a caucus Friday night at 8 o'clock in Corcoran 10. At that time, there will be elections to the vacant seats in the Union which the party now holds.

William Goodykooz, Left leader, said that the Left party will issue a bulletin Thursday to the student body, and that the first edition of a series of papers will also come out this week.

The order of the meeting Friday will differ from those in the past, in that national and international affairs will be discussed, as well as the Union problems.

Wells Addresses Chapel

Prof. Carl Douglas Wells, assistant professor of sociology, will speak at the regular chapel meeting Friday at 12:10 p. m., in Corcoran 10.

History Essay Contest Offers Money Prizes

Ragatz Explains Four Com- petitions; Gold Medals for Prizes

Prof. Lowell J. Ragatz, executive officer of the history department, has announced the annual historical essay contest for this year.

There are four different contests, prizes of which consist of gold medals or money.

In addition, there is a money prize for Seniors, based on scholarship.

In each contest the essays must deal with one of the several prescribed subjects.

Colonial Dames Offer Medal

The Colonial Dames prize, which was established by the Society of the Colonial Dames of America, offers a gold medal to the student who presents the best essay on either of the following subjects: "The First Meeting of the House of Burgesses of Virginia, 1619" and "Spanish Life at Saint Augustine". The Thomas F. Walsh prize, founded by the late Colorado mining magnate, consists of a gold medal, awarded to the student who submits the best essay on any of the following three subjects: "Stafford's Administration of Ireland"; "The Fenians"; or "The Dublin Easter Rebellion of 1916".

European History Prize

The Modern European History prize of $25, founded by an anonymous donor, is available to the student of old world history who prepares the best essay on "The Battle of Navarino"; "The Kaiser and the Daily Telegraph Incident"; or "The Fashoda Affair".

The Daughters of the American Revolution prize, established by the D. A. R. of the District of Columbia, awards a gold medal for the best essay on "The Stamp Act Congress"; or "Francisco de Miranda in the United States".

G. C. Hubbard Award

The Gardner G. Hubbard Memorial prize in American history of $40, created by Gertrude M. Hubbard, is awarded to the member of the graduating class majoring in history who has maintained the high-

Cherry Tree Beauty Contest Entrants Named

Sororities, Studio Select 10 Women in Annual Competition

Stenographic Staff Will Meet Three Nights This Week

Ten women have been selected as entrants in the annual Cherry Tree beauty contest. Seven were chosen by eligible sororities and three by Edmonston's Studio, official photographers for Cherry Tree pictures.

Contestants and their affiliations are as follows: Katherine Black, Phi Mu; Miriam Broas, Kappa Delta; Louise Clark, Alpha Delta Pi; Catherine Dengler, Delta Zeta; Geraldine Dillman, Zeta Tau Alpha; Helen Van Hook, Zeta Tau Alpha; Beulah Kosters, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Frances Knapp, Chi Omega; Nancy Senti, Chi Omega, and Gertrude Sherman, Pi Beta Phi.

Seven sororities having 75 per cent of their membership photographed were eligible to present candidates in the beauty contest, which will be judged by Neysa McMein of McCall's Magazine and John La Galla of the Saturday Evening Post. Miss Broas, Miss Dillman, and Miss Senti were chosen by Edmonston's Studio after Sororities had announced their entries.

All proofs of pictures taken at Edmonston's Studio for the 1936 Cherry Tree must be returned to the studio by 5 p. m. Saturday, according to Bob Hankins, photographic editor.

Seniors who have not turned in cards bearing their name, addresses, fraternal affiliations, and activities should return them to the Publications Office, 2016 H St., by the end of the week.

Stenographic Meet

The stenographic staff of the yearbook will meet tonight, tomorrow night, and Thursday night at 8 p. m. in the Cherry Tree office. Ethel Nelson, stenographic and copy editor, has requested that members of the staff be present at all meetings.

Organizations which have not returned the blanks containing necessary information for the annual should do so immediately to the Publications office. According to Harry Ames, business manager, students should subscribe to the yearbook now in order to insure getting their copies in the spring.

Law Students Organize Club

Justin Miller Speaks at Army and Navy Club Monday Noon

A newly-formed luncheon club for law students under the temporary chairmanship of Jack Miller will be addressed at its first meeting, 12 o'clock, Monday, at the Army and Navy Club, 17th and I Sts., by the Hon. Justin Miller, special assistant to the Attorney General, in charge of criminal investigation.

This club, which is to be temporarily called the George Washington Student Law Forum, will meet every Monday at the Army and Navy Club to listen to a talk by some authority in the legal field and discuss with men who had actually made a success in their chosen profession, and would present the practical side of law.

Gay, Gusack Will Take Lead Roles For Art Theater

Karl Gay and Adele Gusack, formerly prominent in Cue and Curtain productions will play leading roles in Constance Conner Brown's Studio of Theater Arts' presentation of Suigo Perandello's "Six Characters in Search of an Author" today and tomorrow at the Wardman Park theater.

Dorothy Bolton, University student, will also be a member of the cast. The performance tonight will be the first before a Washington audience. Augusto Rosso, ambassador from Italy, and others from the embassy will be present to witness the presentation of the drama by their countryman, Perandello.

Watts Addresses White Medical Society Mar. 9

Dr. James W. Watts will address the William Allison White Society, honorary medical organization, on Mar. 9, at 8 p. m., in Hall B of the Medical School.

Dr. Watts will read a paper entitled "Regulation of Visceral Function by the Brain" in an open meeting. Discussion by audience will follow.

Exitus Acta Probat

Kindler Selects Men's Glee Club To Sing With National Symphony

ANOTHER honor was added to the list of those already attained by the George Washington Men's Glee Club by Dr. Hans Kindler, conductor of the National Symphony Orchestra, when, casting about for a male chorus to sing the "Faust Symphony" with his orchestra on March 15, he picked the Glee Club as the most likely group.

This, however, is not the first time that the superior quality of the work of this organization, under the able direction of Dr. Robert Harmon, has been recognized outside University circles. Since the advent of Dr. Harmon in 1924 the Club has entered the National Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest three times and has placed in all three. In 1930 and 1935 it received honorable mention and won first place in 1931.

The annual Glee Club Concert-Dance has become one of the important social and musical functions of the year for the George Washington campus, and the services of the Club are sought after by various local groups for entertainment at their social functions.

Dr. Harmon stated recently that 3,000 was about the largest audience before which his club has ever performed. As the capacity of Constitutional Hall is about 3,800, and since the National Symphony Orchestra has, on several occasions this season filled it to overflowing, it seems likely that Dr. Harmon's record will be broken.

If the Club measures up to past performances on March 15, it should sweep on to even greater local prestige. At any rate, Dr. Harmon is to be congratulated for the fine work he is doing with that particular student activity.

University Flag Attractive; Will Fly From Second Flagpole

THE flag which has been the official banner of the University since 1905 has received little or no attention in spite of the fact that it is quite attractively and appropriately designed. Being rectangular in shape, the flag has a band through the center of each side forming a cross. In this design the form lends itself well for the placing of the University colors—buff and blue.

Buff for the field and blue for the cross placed upon the center divides the flag into four parts, giving a good section for the placing of the appropriate symbols of the various departments of the University.

In the center of this blue cross, and therefore in the center of the flag, is placed a painted enlarged copy of the official seal of the University. Around the edge of the flag a gold fringe is placed, and a gold cord and tassel at the head of the staff make the flag indicative of the colonial days, yet modern in its adaptation.

Where does this flag fly? Nowhere on the grounds at the present time it is true. However, if the efforts being put forth now by members of the Class of '36 produce the results desired, around June 1 there will be a second flagpole standing in the yard, and the University flag will be seen flying from this new pole.

The present flagpole, which was the gift to the University of the Class of '35, will continue to fly the American flag.

Not only will the second flagpole stand in commemoration of the Class of '36, but will provide a place for the buff and blue to wave for years to come.

If you have not already contributed to the flagpole fund, we suggest that you do so. Any member of the Senior Council stands ready to accept your donation.

Men Protest Panhel Prom Too Close To Interfraternity Prom

THE PANHELLENIC COUNCIL has selected Friday evening, March 13, for its prom this year. This means only one week intervenes between the Interfraternity and Panhellenic Proms. It is most unusual for these two balls, which are considered the most brilliant of the year's social events, to be held so close together. In 1934, the Interfraternity Prom was held on March 16 and the Panhellenic Prom on April 20. Last year the Interfraternity and Panhellenic Proms were held on March 1 and April 5, respectively.

Due to the fact that the Interfraternity Prom is always held first, the men have first choice of dates and in the past the practice has been that after announcement of the Interfraternity Prom date the Panhellenic Council then set the date for its prom, leaving an interval of several weeks between the two affairs. Apparently, the date of the Interfraternity Prom was not taken into consideration this year by the Panhellenic Council in selecting its prom date.

The fact that these dances will take place this year within a week of each other is going to work a hardship on the men from the standpoint of finances and, therefore, the date set for the Panhellenic Prom is unpopular with them.

Basis of the men's complaint is that the two affairs will cost them around $17.00, which, we must agree, is a goodly sum to put out in such a short space of time. It has also been pointed out that there is no pay day between the two dates and since the majority of the students are self supporting, this is an important item, too.

The amount of expense to the men for the two affairs is itemized by them as follows: $5.00 admission; $1.50 taxi fares; $2.50 corsage; $2.00 food and drinks; 35¢ check tips; total, $11.35. Except for the $5.00 for admission, the men contend they will have the same expense for the Panhellenic Prom as for the Interfraternity Prom. Add, then, to $11.35 for the Interfraternity Prom $6.35 for the Panhellenic Prom, makes a total output to the men of $17.35.

Of course, the women might say that they do not care whether or not the date set for the Panhellenic Prom has the approval of the men, but the "catch" in the situation, arising because the balls are being held so close together this year, is that the men who cannot afford to spend $17.00 will not go to either of the events. The reason for this is that it is customary for the young lady to invite to the Panhellenic Prom her escort to the Interfraternity Prom, and as they point out, the men who are not in a financial position to accept an invitation to the Panhellenic Prom will not attend the Interfraternity Prom.

Under these circumstances, the attendance of both proms will suffer unless the Panhellenic Prom is changed to a later date. Therefore, the Panhellenic Council would be acting wisely to consider these points and, if at all possible, schedule the Panhellenic Prom for a later date.

Courtmen's Record of 16 Wins, 3 Losses Deserves High Praise

SIXTEEN victories, three defeats.

That's the net result of the Colonial's endeavors on the basketball court for the season, which ended last night with the victory over Wake Forest.

And quite a pleasing record it is too. Especially so, when it is considered that several of the classicists quints campaigning in the East were met.

Undoubtedly this was the best basketball team ever to sport the Buff and Blue of George Washington. Likewise, it was the best team in the District of Columbia section this season.

While the players of course really played the games, much credit, we believe, is due Coach Bill Reinhart, who in his first year at the University as head basketball coach guided his charges successfully through such a brilliant season.

Anyway, to players, coaches, trainers and others who contributed to this "greatest basketball season at George Washington," The Hatchet takes pride and pleasure in extending congratulations.

It's Probably Too Late to Do Anything This Year, But Consideration Should Be Given to Discontinuance of the "Fiesta"

By Jimmie Haley

PRESIDENT MARVIN would be acting wisely, I believe, if he took steps to eliminate that celebration which takes place in the spring of each year and which was once called by its correct name—Carnival—but is now dignified by the misnomer "Fiesta."

Perhaps it would be unwise to call off the 1936 affair at this late date, but the advisability of its continuance should be carefully considered next year before any definite plans are made.

My reasons for this belief are manifold.

First and foremost, the "Fiesta" no longer to any great extent fulfills its purpose as a fund-raiser for maintenance of the band. The net profit has diminished each succeeding year, last year's three-day show bringing in only $100.00 (approximate).

If the "Fiesta" made an appreciable sum of money I would be tempted to—in fact I would—overlook its other faults. But since the net profit is becoming negligible, its continuance is scarcely warranted in the light of this and other faults.

A second fault is found in the very nature of the thing. A carnival—and that's all it is in spite of the "Fiesta" tag—seems out of place at this university. Students here just don't seem very much interested in going out for an evening's entertainment consisting of a ride on the ferris wheel, a half cooked hot dog, taking several flings at a prize in games of chance, and topped off with a ten-cent dance.

A third reason for discontinuing the "Fiesta" may be called "natural difficulties" encountered in holding such a celebration.

A most important drawback is lack of a suitable lot—one large enough to accommodate necessary features. Then, too, the damage to whatever part of the campus the "Fiesta" falls on is appreciable, as any of our property officials will testify.

Another item in this consideration is the weather. Springtime in Washington is noted for rainy, disagreeable weather. A rainy spell cannot be anticipated nor successfully insured against, and over a period of years will most certainly ruin a number of such outside celebrations.

Finally, the "Fiesta" requires work and effort out of all proportion to the benefits derived—financial or otherwise. And while willing and able students have always been available to put the show on, their energies would no doubt be used to better advantage in other fields of endeavor.

Instead of the "Fiesta" (Carnival), I would like to suggest a spring Music Festival as being more appropriate (and more profitable). With much less expenditure of time, effort and money, a three-night program consisting of a musical comedy, a band and glee clubs concert, and finally an All-University spring dance, with other fitting features thrown in, could be arranged.

The student body, and friends of the University, would, I sincerely believe, be much more receptive to such a Festival than to the established "Fiesta" (Carnival).

Presidents of Honorary Fraternities, Sororities Explain What They Think of the Union, Its Purpose, and the Opportunities It Offers Students

By Bill Cheatham

POLITICIANS beware! The Union which recently broke forth on campus after careful planning, is as I hope it will provide a place in which the student politicians of the campus may let off all their steam.

"This, I hope, would tend to leave the Student Council open to persons really interested in student government and the welfare of the student body as a whole, and keep it from being crowded with persons endeavoring to satisfy personal political whims."

Richard Evans, president of Phi Eta Sigma:

"Here in Washington the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November is a black day. With no voice in national or local affairs, we are forced to bow and scrape before arrogant gods from the sticks. The Union, therefore, offers the only outlet for those who like politics, even though it is woefully lacking in such ancient and honorable institutions as lobbying and wire-pulling."

Barbara Fries, treasurer of Delphi: "The Union certainly should have an appeal to the embryo politicians and statesmen in the University. It combines political and economic problems with political and economic issues and furnishes an excellent training ground in parliamentary procedure and debate."

"As long as its members keep this purpose in mind its success seems fairly assured and its place on the campus a permanent one. However, it seems inevitable on this point that organizations barely taste success and then immediately contract sleeping sickness, which is usually fatal."

Everett H. Woodward, president of Pi Delta Epsilon:

"The worth of any project can be justly determined only by the merits of time and usage. Naturally the early enthusiasm of the originators will carry out the first part of the activity, but the testing point will be the attitude of new students approaching it with a natural viewpoint. The University graveyard is filled with meritorious one and two year plans. Whether

Strong Admonitions Regarding Activities Expressed

DEAR EDITOR:

May I blow off some steam?

A few years ago I stood in the Yard and heard the President of the University proclaim a partnership between students and faculty. Being a freshman, freshly graduated from the grain fields and ranges of the hinterlands, I was so deeply impressed that when it was urged by the same authority that to profit the most from this partnership one should engage in activities, I responded with all the zeal and enthusiasm of the uninitiated.

Sad to relate, the years have disillusioned me and I find my personal experience in violent disagreement with the Presidential proclamation.

A partnership may exist in curricular activities, but partnership in extra-curricular activities can be found about as easily as a Communist in the American Liberty League.

I conceive a partnership to be a joint undertaking where each party contributes his fair share of assets and labor and shares in like ratio the proceeds. Little labor, is expended by the administration or faculty to carry on the extra-curricular activities.

The doctrine enunciated by administrative heads in most instances is this, "we prefer not to be bothered with such things unless there is a crisis." This is hardly a partnership.

In pursuance of this doctrine each activity is allowed to go its merry way, without the advice or counsel of experience, and sooner or later the inevitable mistakes of youth give rise to a major crisis.

Then the administration is called (or comes without being called) often just in time to give absolution to a dying organization. In some cases the ailing group is examined and, if its youthful ravings have become so poisonous and malignant that the stench offends nostrils outside its fold, the little poison is administered and the organization passes on, generally without benefit of the clergy. In other cases the organization—not being users of Lux (and remember even their best friends won't tell them) have become unconsciously odorous and by one swoop are blasted to bits by a mandatory decree from this so-called partner.

Hardly a partnership. More like a disinterested step-father with an incorrigible, ill-advised son.

Thus wastes G. W. activities. Troubadours after a phenomenal rise sink into oblivion for lack of the nourishment of advice and counsel. Cue and Curtain, once the

Delphi Taps During Prom Intermission

Cups for Bridge Tournament and Intramurals To Be Presented

DELPHI, inter-sorority honor society, will tap outstanding campus women during the intermission of the Panhellenic Prom March 13, Betty Bacon, acting president of the society, announced last week.

Other outstanding events scheduled for the Prom and announced Sunday by Eldridge Loeffler, social chairman of the Council, include presentation of cups for women's intramural sports and of the Panel Bridge Tournament cup.

The date set for the prom this year is the earliest in recent years. Last year's prom was held Apr. 5; the proms of '34 and '35 were held during the last week of April, and that of '32 was during the first week of April.

Music for last year's prom was furnished by Isham Jones and his 18-piece orchestra. It was broadcast over WJSV. Joe Hayme's orchestra played in '34. For the two preceding proms, music was imported from North Carolina. In '33 Eddie Polls U. C. State College Band played, and in '32 Jack Baxter's Carolina Tarheel's were chosen.

Other members of the prom committee are Katherine Porter and Mary Katherine Tidball.

New Social Calendar System Requires Registration of Dates

Student Council Cooperates With Student Life Committee in Resurrection of Service; Goes Into Effect March 1

A NEW system of registering dates of campus social affairs, planned by the Student Council in cooperation with the Student Life Committee, and made possible by increased facilities of the Council, will go into effect March 1, Bourke Floyd, president, announced Saturday. Offices of the Student Council, M-11, will be open Mondays from 8 to 10:30 p.m., Wednesdays from 3 to 10:30 p.m., and Saturdays from 10 to 5 p.m. To receive applications for registration by person, mail, or phone.

Council Has Suitable Offices. Revival of the Social Calendar, not in effective working order for several years, is made possible by the fact that the Council now has suitable offices for use as headquarters where registration may be made.

All social functions must be registered at least one week prior to the dates selected, in order to avoid complications arising from conflicts. To insure against misunderstanding, the Council will mail cards of approval to the organizations applying for closed dates.

Penalties Listed. Penalties for breaking closed dates are those delegated to the Student Life Committee by the Board of Trustees, and will be laid at the discretion of the former, which may revoke all social privileges for any length of time.

A bulletin board in the Council office, upon which will be posted all events, closed and open, will enable social chairmen to see what events are scheduled well in advance.

Eliminates Red Tape. Floyd explained that the new system would eliminate red tape and insure organizations against conflicts of schedule. It affords protection against cancellation of functions by the Student Life Committee, and the requirement that all events be registered a week in advance provides opportunity to make new arrangements in case of conflict, he said.

The new calendar will go into effect for all dates after Feb. 29. Closed dates already set will stand. The Social Calendar Committee is headed by Margaret Graves, representative of the Woman's Athletic Association.

Home Ec Class Gives Tea, Show. Over 50 dresses were modeled by 20 women in the home economics department at the joint dress show and tea which took place last Wednesday in Building C. The dresses represented the past semester's work of the freshman construction class, and the advanced dress construction and design students.

Following the dress show, tea was served by the quantitative cookery class assisted by the freshman food problems group. Over 60 parents, students, and professors attended.

This is the first of a series of teas to be served by the quantitative cookery class as part of the students' semester work. The faculty women will be entertained Feb. 27.

Inter-Class Basketball Games Start

Seniors and Freshmen Emerge Victorious In Opener

THE first interclass basketball games were played last Wednesday night with Senior and Freshman teams emerging victorious.

The Soph-Fresh game began shortly after 8 p. m. and was exciting throughout. In the first half, the Freshman team set a terrific pace, scoring well, and the Sophs had a job keeping pace. Score at the end of the half was Fresh 32, Sophomores 10.

In the second half, Freshmen continued to score, and the game ended with the score 46-25 in favor of the Fresh. Sylvia Bahat made 25 points and Betty Strine, 21. Frances Prather led the scoring for the Sophs with 15 points, Elizabeth Brandes accounted for 8, and Dahlia Lewis, 2.

The Seniors won a close decision over the Juniors, 28 to 23, Juniors leading at the end of the first half, 15-8. Connie Levinson, senior forward, played a beautiful game, sinking shots from all over the floor, and making 22 of the 25 points. Peggy Graves led the scoring for the Juniors with 14 points and Kitty Black made 9.

Tonight, the Seniors will play the Freshmen, and the Juniors and Sophomores will tangle. The first game will begin at 8 p. m.

Fr. Straghn Addresses Newman Club Thursday

The Newman Club will hold its regular meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in Corcoran 12. The guest speaker will be Father Straghn of the English department of Catholic University. The subject of his talk will be "Medieval Drama." All Catholic students are invited to attend.

The club will hold its annual St. Patrick's Day dance at the National Women's Country Club on Saturday, Mar. 21, from 10 until 1.

Delphi Elections Scheduled. Delphi, inter-sorority honorary society, will hold elections Thursday at 8 o'clock in the Kappa Kappa Gamma rooms. This group is composed of two representatives elected from each of the chapters in the Panhellenic Association.

Dr. Kotz Speaks. Pi Delta Gamma sorority for graduate women will hold a meeting Sunday at 3 o'clock in International House. Dr. J. Kotz will be the speaker. His subject will be "The Endocrine Gland." Mary Smith and Marjorie Cade will be hostesses at the meeting.

Badminton Tournament Mixed Doubles Open. For the first time in the history of the University, men and women students will compete in a mixed doubles badminton tournament, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in the gym.

Approximately 15 couples have signed up for the tournament, which is sponsored by Miss H. Margaret Lea and Max Farrington, respectively, of the physical education departments.

The tournament will continue Friday.

Pick Dancing for a Supple Body, Counsels Orchesis' Mrs. Foster

Mrs. Ruth Aubeck Foster of the Women's Athletic Department and advisor to Orchesis Dance Club is shown here at her desk in the W. A. A. offices.

In her five years in the physical education department of the University, Mrs. Ruth Aubeck Foster has been interested, primarily, in dancing. She was instrumental in the founding of Orchesis about four years ago and has made it one of the most active campus organizations.

Though generally a calm, poised, and very efficient person, dancing completely transforms her personality. It is one of the most important factors in her life and the students of the University have profited greatly by her intense interest in the sport.

She Wouldn't Talk. It was most difficult getting an interview with Mrs. Foster. She is averse to talking about herself, but will tell you all about her husband, who is an engineer and an ardent sportsman, besides having unofficially adopted the whole of the women's physical ed department.

Mrs. Foster is originally from New York, where she went to the New York College for Teachers. She taught at Randolph-Macon College and the University of Pittsburgh before she came to George Washington.

Council Sets Mid-Mixer For Friday

Student Council Holds Freshman Mixer in Student Club

THE Freshman Mixer and Dance, under the auspices of the Student Council, will take place Friday night in the Student Club, on the ground floor of the Biological Sciences Building, from 9 to 12.

Harry Ames, Student Council social chairman, announced that Dick Stiles' orchestra has been selected for the dance.

The mixer is an annual affair on the campus, and is given for the purpose of aiding new students to make contacts which will later prove both pleasant and valuable.

Last year was the first time the affair was extended to February entering students, having previously been confined to first semester entrants only.

All students in the University, particularly Freshmen, are urged to attend, according to Ames.

Nothing Prevents Student March Toward Altar

Among the most recent marriages was that of Miss Jacquelin Ames and Mr. James M. Heilman, which took place Feb. 8. The bride is a graduate of the University, while the bridegroom is completing his final year at the Law School.

Miss Helen Walker became the bride of Mr. Russell Snodgrass last Saturday. Mrs. Snodgrass received her A. B. degree from the University.

Elizabeth Wheeler and Edwin Coleman were married Saturday afternoon at the Hamline Methodist Episcopal Church. Mrs. Coleman received her M. A. in Political Science at George Washington this February.

Phi Mu announces the engagement of Kitty Black to Arnold Loveday.

Virginia Squires and Gerald B. Thorne were married Feb. 22. The bride attended the University.

Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Grosvener announce the engagement of their daughter, Elsie Carol, to Dr. Walker Kendall Myers. The wedding will take place in May. Dr. Myers is a member of the teaching staff of the Medical School.

Pi Beta Phi announces the engagement of Helen Hackworth to Robert B. Hopen.

at one time music, she became even more interested in dancing. She went into teaching, because she felt in that way she would get the most opportunities to enjoy her art.

... a Supple, Flexible Body
"Everyone realizes the value and importance of a supple, flexible, graceful body," she said. "I believe that, except for swimming, no other sport offers the opportunities for complete body exercise that dancing does. Dancing teaches you rhythm and gives you poise."

Besides that, Mrs. Foster feels that professional stage dancers demand an intelligent audience. She deprecates the fact that many people are rather frightened away from the modern dance, because it has been called every known name from ballet to aesthetic dancing.

... an Excellent Game of Tennis
Mrs. Foster plays an excellent game of tennis—in spite of the fact that she could never teach us how to make a backhand stroke. When we asked her for an estimate of her own tennis game, she said, "O, I play all right, I guess. Of course, I'm out of practice, and probably couldn't beat the best players."

Her favorite hobbies are interior decorating and antiques. And then, of course, there is always dancing.

Prizes Offered For Stories By Magazine
Winning Entry Will Be Published in 'Story' Magazine

The magazine, "Story," in its third annual contest for short story writers, offers a first prize of $100 and a second prize of $50.

Entrants must be registered students of some recognized college or university in this country. Each college or university may submit not more than two stories.

Manuscripts of students must be in the hands of Prof. Douglas Bement by 6 p. m., Mar. 14, in K-32. Judges for selecting the two entries to represent The University have not yet been selected.

Stories must be legibly written, preferably typewritten on one side of paper only and must be between 1500 and 7000 words. Stories may or may not have first appeared in a college publication during the contest.

The winning story will be published in "Story." The magazine reserves the right to allow reprints of any other entries of unusual merit in "Short Story Anthology."

Classes Will Quiz Grocers in Study
Grocers will be quizzed, consumers will be watched, and price fluctuations will be tabulated by the students of the household economics class in the food study this semester. Reports at the conclusion of trips will be turned in the first class period of each month.

Each student is working on one food, such as meats, fresh fruits, dairy products, or bakery goods. In watching consumer buying, the efficiency of the buyer will be checked, as well as the questions the customers ask concerning prices, grades, brands, weight, measure, and quantity of the products bought.

White Addresses Group At Medical Convention
Dr. Charles White, professor of surgery in the Medical School, is in Columbia, S. C., attending the Tri-State Medical Society convention. He will read a paper on "Acute Mesenteric Adenitis."

Book Exchange Open
The University book exchange will be open for a short time Thursday and Friday of this week in Building M, to return books and money to those who have not yet called for them. Austin Cunningham, chairman of the Men's Independents, has announced.

Avukah Will Meet Tomorrow Night
The next meeting of the Avukah will be held at the home of Beatrice Orris in Clarendon, Va., Wednesday, 8:30 p. m. Minnie Dockertman will speak on "Jewish nationalism and the meaning of Judaism: a cultural evolution."

Hyman Chozick, president of the Avukah, has announced that applications will be accepted for the Avukah Palestine fellowships. These two fellowships are offered yearly to Avukah members. They consist of a summer's study in Palestine, including an opportunity of attending sessions at the university in Jerusalem. The recipients of last year's fellowships were from the University of Wisconsin and the University of Rochester.

Sperry Speaks Before Library Science Club

The method of selection of members will also be provided in the bill.

Bill Is Contradict
This bill is in decided contrast to the sweeping bill reported by the judiciary committee at the last Union meeting, which advocated state ownership, operation, or control of banking, public utilities, and natural resources, as well as stringent regulatory provisions regarding agriculture, industry, and commerce.

As one prominent Union member observed, "from now on you will probably see the Center Party working more cohesively, both in committee and on the floor." Sunday's meeting should see the test of the Center Party's strength.

D.T.D., With 5 Wins, Leads Bowlers, In League A

Saturday's postponements will be the last ones, according to I. Ray Howard, Interfraternity Council

Kirkey, lead-off man for D. T. D., turned in the league A single game, having a score of 128, but bowed for three-game honors to Woodward, a team-mate, who scored 333. Pomeroy of T. U. O. bowled the highest single game in league B having a 122 score with Dorsey of T. U. O. bowling a 339 for the highest league B three-game total.

Next week's schedule is expected to produce a major shift in the standings in both leagues. In league A, D. T. D. bids fair to be at least tied, if not overtaken, by K. A., for the Kappa Alpha team is favored to make a clean sweep of its match with T. K. E., while D. T. D. will probably have considerably more difficulty with Kappa Sigma, its opponent.

League B teams are so well matched it is impossible to predict possible result with any high degree of certainty though Acacia is slated to improve its average; unless they catch a tartar in the Phi

Gen. Mitchell, G.W. Alumnus, Dies in N. Y.

Influenza Fatal to Head of 'American Air Forces' in the War

Brig. Gen. William E. Mitchell, commander-in-chief of the American air forces during the World War and graduate of the University in 1919 as of his own class of 1899, died last Wednesday following several weeks' confinement in Doctors' Hospital, New York City, with influenza complicated by a heart condition attributed to overwork. He was 56 years old.

Known as the "Bad Boy of aviation," "Billy" Mitchell, the late gentleman farmer of Virginia, followed a career which brought him back from daring and noteworthy achievement in time of war to a court martial in time of peace, followed by open conflict with his superiors and his resigning his commission in 1926. Since then he has continued his criticism of the War Department from the lecture platform.

Made Officer When 19

Gen. Mitchell grew up in Milwaukee and attended Racine College, later enrolling in the University. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American War he left school and enlisted as a private in Company M, First Wisconsin Infantry, May 14, 1898. Soon after enlisting he was made a Second Lieutenant, taking part in the Philippine campaign as the youngest officer in the United States Army. He was then nineteen.

He spent two years in Alaska battling temperatures of 50 degrees below in order to lay telegraph lines down the Yukon from Eagle City to Prince William Sound, a distance of 3,000 miles.

In 1908 he was graduated from the Army School of the Line at Fort Leavenworth and was assigned to the Army war post here. While here, he spent weekends at Newport News learning to fly.

Commanded A. E. F. Forces

Enrolling in the University again, he was forced to leave when the World War broke out. He was in Spain when the United States entered hostilities and was sent to Paris where he fought in the front lines. He was the first United States Army officer to fly over German lines and was made commanding officer of the A. E. F. Air Forces. During his service he took active part in nearly every major air battle. He received the Distinguished Service Cross, Distinguished Service Medal, Croix de Guerre with five palms, Legion of Honor, Companion Order of St. Michael and St. George and other awards.

In 1919 he attended the University once more and received his degree at the June Convocation exercises as of his own class of 1899. This was done by special action of the University designating that students who had been unable to finish school because of war should be graduated as of their respective classes.

Flew 222.87 Miles an Hour

After the war he was one of America's greatest boosters of aviation. In 1921 he demonstrated the wiping out of New York City with imaginary bombs. In the next year he flew 222.87 miles an hour to set a speed record. Announcing that he could sink any battleship with bombs, he was given a chance to prove his statements and did so.

It was at this time that a series of outspoken statements led to Mitchell's court-martial and suspension order. In 1925 he asserted that the War Department was quite incapable of creating, handling or administering air power in an efficient manner. Pres. Coolidge appointed an investigating committee which denied the charges and the value of an independent air corps. The Sheridanoh disaster, Gen. Mitchell charged, was "direct result of incompetency, criminal negligence, and almost treasonable administration of the national defense by the War and Navy Departments."

Tried by Court Martial

During the following month, Gen. Mitchell was tried by court martial and found guilty of conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline. He was sentenced to immediate suspension with forfeiture of all pay and allowances for five years. Pres. Coolidge upheld the suspension but restored allowances and half of the base pay. The day after his conviction, Gen. Mitchell tendered his resignation and retired to his farm in Middleburg, Va.

Following his resignation, Mitchell conducted lecture tours maintaining the inadequacy of the United States air defense. He has been the author of "Our Air Force," "Winged Defense," and several pamphlets, articles, and periodicals. Funeral rites were held Saturday at St. Paul's Church, Milwaukee, without military honors.

Bruce Mahan Is Leading Scorer in Flower League

Bruce Mahan, husky quarterback on the football team, is leading scorer in the Flower League basketball tournament with a total of 52 points. Bill Myers announced yesterday, following the tabulation of results of the games Sunday, in which the Lillies downed the Roses, 24-17; the Violets wilted the Pansies, 27-17; the Daisies froze out the Tulips, Mahan's team, 23-15; and the Gardenias won by forfeit over the Sunflowers by the customary 2-0 score.

Mahan was followed by Walker, of the Violets, who racked up 49 points; Trinastich, another football stalwart, with 43; Vonderbrugg, varsity end, with 42; and George Jenkins, halfback, who hooped 41.

Former Student Finds Use For Old Term Papers

By Edmund Browning

Laura Harris, a student in the University summer sessions of 1934 and 1935, has found a use for old term papers that might be worth duplicating.

When the December issue of the Nebraska Educational Journal appeared, it contained an article "Stepping Behind the Scene in the Development of Art Appreciation," by Miss Harris. This paper was originally written last summer as a term paper in Prof. Christopher B. Garnett's course in aesthetics.

Miss Harris is now teaching art appreciation in the Irving Junior High School in Lincoln, Neb.

Six Entered In Competition

Present Competitive Papers On Engineering Tomorrow Night

John W. Beane, Jr., Francis C. Bourke, Grayson B. Haines, Louis Rezek, William B. Stewart, and Herbert C. S. Thom. Will present competitive papers on engineering subjects at the meeting of the University chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. in Corcoran 10.

The judges, Dean John R. Lapham, and Profs. Benjamin C. Cruikshanks, Arthur F. Johnson, and Henry G. Roberts, will select the winner of the competition, who will represent the chapter at the regional convention of student chapters, to be held here Apr. 27-28.

American center from Washington State, and Benny Friedman, former All-American quarterback from the University of Michigan.

During his stay at George Washington, Tuffy rolled up a record that was instrumental in winning the contract to play on the Giants. In his three years he gained 2,382 yards from scrimmage, an average of 4.86; he tossed 161 passes and completed 61 for a gain of 966 yards; and in his last year, the only year he received passes, the Bouncing Belgian caught five out of seven aerial heaves.

Leemans was given All-American mention two years, and he received a position on the first team of All-Eastern for two years.

Cantor Contest Closes
Over 20,000 entries were submitted in the Eddie Cantor Essay contest, which closed Saturday night at 12 midnight. The winner of the $5,000 scholarship prize will be announced on the Eddie Cantor radio program of April 5.

G. Cowgill Dies Of Hemorrhage In Kansas City

Guy M. Cowgill, former student of the University, lawyer and authority on insurance law of Kansas City, Mo., died last week at Research Hospital, Kansas City, following a cerebral hemorrhage.

In charge of cotton investigation, Cowgill served on the Federal Tariff Board under President Taft. In 1922 he formed a partnership with Arthur C. Popham, which continued until his death. Born at Villisca, Ia., in 1879, he also attended the University of Nebraska and Northwestern University. He was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Delta Phi fraternities and the Masonic Lodge.

He also held membership in the Kansas City Bar Association and the Missouri Bar Association.

Funeral services were held Saturday in Kansas City. He will be buried in Villisca.

Phi Sigma Rho Society Will Initiate Tomorrow

Phi Sigma Rho, philosophical society, will hold a business meeting at which new members will be initiated, in Dr. Richardson's office, Building L, tomorrow night at 8:15.

The candidates for initiation are Irving Brick, Edmund Browning, Frances Ellison, Jane Ficklin, Albert Maizels, and Helen Merryman.

Long Gives Talk At Med. School

Dr. Esmond R. Long, of the Henry Phipps Institute in Philadelphia, gave a Smith-Reed-Russell lecture at the School of Medicine last Tuesday morning.

Dr. Long developed his subject, "The Types of Pulmonary Tuberculosis in Relation to Spread of the Disease", by showing clinical and pathological pictures with a slide projecting machine of different types of tuberculosis in blacks and whites in the Philadelphia section.

He pointed out that tuberculous infection, as measured by positive tuberculin tests all over the country, is much less prevalent than is commonly supposed. To support this, he read statistics from the different areas of the United States.

Len Walsh, Line Coach, Resigns

Like Logan's resignation, his was only a matter of time, and it is evident that he, too, was waiting the return of Pixlee before taking such steps.

Walsh has been with the Bureau of Investigation for over a year. Last fall he received a three-months' leave to tutor the Colonial linemen.

While here Walsh uncovered two grid stars who will live in the hall of the G. W. immortals—Tuffy Leemans and Johnny Fenlon. It was through the efforts of Walsh's brother that Tuffy made his way to the "G-Street" institution.

Such linemen as Capt. Harry Deming, Red Rathjen, Sid Kolker, Bill Parrish, Hank Strayer, Zuzu Stewart, Capt. Ed Clark, Hardy Pierce, and Walter Slaird came up under the tutelage of Walsh.

Theta Tau Elects
Theta Tau, professional engineering fraternity, elected Walter Rhine, vice-regent; George E. Rhine, treasurer; and Edward A. Baker, corresponding secretary, at a meeting held last Wednesday.

Crandall Class Designs House For Mr. Bement

The class of Prof. Norris B. Crandall, director of Fine Arts, in office practice is designing a house for Prof. Douglas Bement, of the English department, and his wife.

Students connected with the project went over the property Saturday to locate trees and survey the general contours of the land, and make estimates.

Mrs. Bement has expressed the desire for a design of high rooms with beamed or trussed ceilings. Professor Bement, in regards to the size of the dining and living rooms, was inclined towards a small dining room with the extra space going into the building of the living room.

Art Zahn Takes Over Frosh Five

point margin the yearlings piled up in their first encounter. The game with Washington-Lee was almost as one-sided as the first one when the frosh-flippers allowed the Virginians only one field goal in a 34-5 victory. This time the visitors garnered three snowbirds and four foul shots among their ten points.

Coaching the freshmen is nothing new to Zahn, who is credited with having drilled into them the fundamental points on which they have been building such a pyramid of victories this season. He had charge of them for a short time at the beginning of the season while Logan was out of town.

Also, in the slender, athletic, Zahn, the freshmen get another man, who even more than Logan is an active and skilled player himself. "Otis" was an outstanding star for the Colonial varsity two years ago, and since has been starring with the Heurich Fro quintet.

Since Coach Zahn has as yet received no notification concerning when his team will play their first game in the A. A. U. tournament, or who will be their opponents, he has been unable to make any definite preparations for the tourney, outside of the regular daily drills.
